Bert - I enjoyed being with you in the government class. I wished the year was longer.
Good luck always. Danny Luwage.

Bert,

Congratulations we both made it. It was a lot of fun in yearbook and you were a pretty good editor. I think the yearbook came out really great. Good luck and maybe we'll see you

Every event is significant to someone. Though it may not make the headlines of the news, if in some small way it creates an idea, or changes a feeling it has importance.

Napa High School is a very real part of the lives of those who come here. Through its corridors pass members of tomorrows special, more aware generation.

We believe every person is as important and special as he is unique, and that the following pages allow but a brief glimpse into the history of the past. Surely the record is far from complete.

After completing your schedule it's a matter of waiting in line, as shown by these students.

Concentrating on finishing is the objective here.

FOREVER A MEMORY

Seeing . . .
Being Seen
Acting . . .
Reacting . . .
Memories remain
eternally unchanged.

The laugh is for but a moment, the thought is forever.

Somewhere between the innocent, unaware child and the cultured adult is an unforgettable creature known as the student. Students come in all sizes, ages, weights, and colors, still all have a common purpose; to enjoy every hour of every day, to delay doing homework and term papers, to spend money as fast as it can be earned, and to complain endlessly.

These students are found everywhere on campus, at home, in town, at the football games, often in the deans' office and on occasions in the classroom. The student is a mixture representing both sexes. They have within them a never ending ability and the energy to match. Yet they are not without fault since in a way they are still only human. No one else can eat, date, cram, or sleep as much and still enjoy life to its fullest extent. No one else is so attentive and yet still so unaware of it all. And no one else has their friendliness and enthusiasm, along with the curiosity of a cat, available for expression on any given moment.

Behind all of this are the loving parents, the worrying administrators, and teachers, not to mention the tolerating law and the hope, and luck which heavens descend

The cafeteria is always a busy place during the noon hour.

WE'VE LEARNED

Day by day we've learned that life is not a silly game to be knocked around or brought to shame.

We've learned the sun comes up and the sun goes down, the moon comes up and the world goes around.

We've learned to make our way through stresses and through strains sharing the secrets that life contains.

We've learned what love can do, and what love can do for you, that life is made easier to bare just knowing you've got someone there.

We've learned that life is sweet and can be complete, that it beats in loving rhythm, and takes only what in it is given.

We've learned to live. For memories are of the past and our lives will forever not last.

"Coach Smith's happy thought's about an undefeated season". "Naturally, we on the JV team and coaching staff, are "Tickled to death", with our successful season.

There are many lessons to be learned from the fine sport of football, and it is hoped that the members of this years' J V team have learned their lessons well, for most of them will be members of the 1974 Napa Varsity football team.

Future Looks Good

The 1973 cross-country season started with two wins both the varsity and junior varsity teams. The rest of the season was a good one except for a couple of losses to Montgomery and Ukiah. The season ended on a very high note as the varsity took third place at the North Bay League Finals and the sophomores took first place. Next year's team could very well be the best in Napa High's history due to the large number of talented sophomores.

Spirit Week!

Spirit Week, held in the fall of '73, was highlighted by the traditional crowning of Napa High's Homecoming Queen. The winner was Cathy Wilson, escorted by Steve Davis and sponsored by the Key Club.

Another outstanding event was the launching of a hot air balloon, representing the sophomores' participation in spirit week.

Winners of the annual Spirit Week Parade were Best Decorated—Choir; Most Original—Senior Class; Most Spirited—Pep Squad.

THE ANNUAL

The annual rally to promote spirit for the upcoming football game with Vintage High School was held on November 16th. The Varsity spirit girls did a fantastic routine entitled "On The First Day Of School, My Mother Told Me . . ." The band played various selections, including the Napa Indian fight song. The Thespians also took part with a skit called "Cinderella", all will long be remembered by the student body.

RALLY

Shown above is varsity cheerleader Laurie Butin, as she stirs up spirits of her own. Ron Savage, of the Thespians, rides in on his make-believe white steed as Prince Charming in the skit "Cinderella". A high point of the rally was the Vocal Music Workshop, a group of selected choir students who sung various selections of modern music.

The story of Ebenezer Scrooge has touched the hearts of many. This year it tickled the fancy of an audience of Napa residents. The ghosts of Christmas Past, Present, and Future, the Cratchetts will long be remembered by the Napa High students who performed under the direction of Mrs. Craig, drama teacher and enthusiast.

VOTING 73-74

Speeches of all kinds were heard from hopeful candidates. Shown here is junior Kathy Tronstad.

Junior Dave Sercu convincing students he deserves their vote.

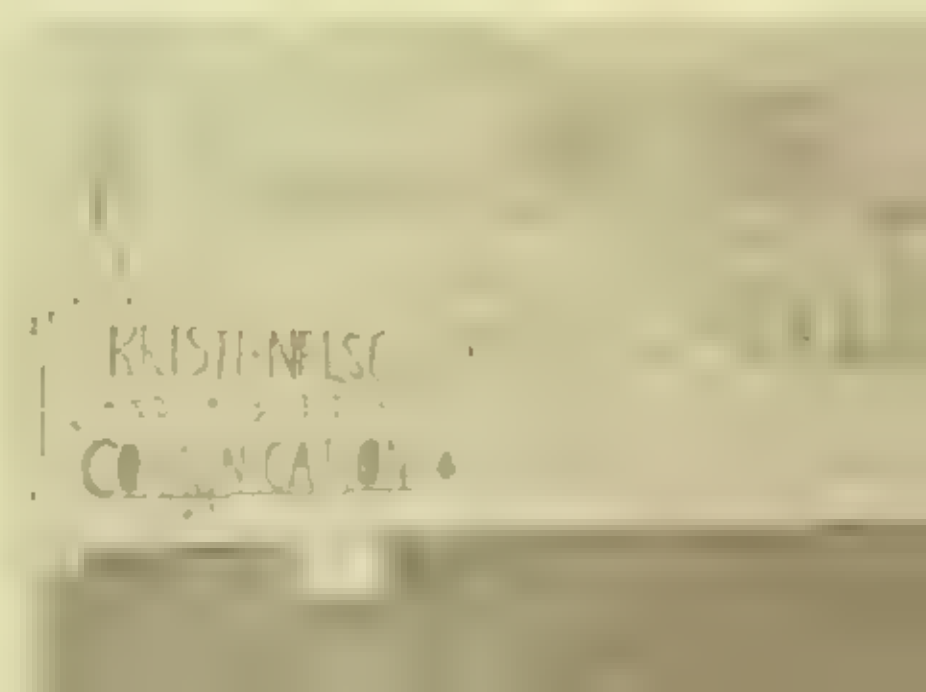

Voting seems to be taking serious form as only a small percentage of the student body. The percentage of voters is not to be expected with these students. Unlike the few students who are taking time out from lunch to vote. Shown above are students taking time out from lunch to vote.

Showing all the enthusiasm of a true politician is Mike Nalley while below is Sue Myrthle with vice-president, Randy Guerrieri during a serious moment of her campaign speech.

The spring semester election had the sophomores holding the largest number of voters while there was a good turnout from all Campaign signs of various creativity were posted just about everywhere. In some areas buildings were literally blotted out. Below is the result of signs having been sabotaged by students with matches.

ASSEMBLIES

Throughout the year assemblies played an important and enjoyable part of students life. The favorites however usually took place during classtime and tickets were necessary in order to attend

Students were able to see presentations from the Eastman-Kodak Co. on photography, a play presented by the Napa College Chicano students, concerts performed by The University of Nevada Jazz Band, and The Free Fare, a rock concert group. Also The History of Rock and Roll which included a special appearance by "Citizen Bill" of KFRC Radio

February brought Law Enforcement Week to Napa High. Sponsored by the Career Center, various speakers from Napa's law enforcement agencies spoke about their vocations. Students heard from FBI agents, the probation department, the sheriff's office, from the California Highway Patrol and undercover narcotic agents

AN ENTERTAINING ACTIVITY

Blistered Hands

Patty Wong, surprised at the show of a camera, Dennis Guertner, Randy Guertner, Ron Threadgill, and Diane DeLong

Raising the dust before it rained were Denise Piercy, Sue Myrtle, Kristi Smith, and Russ Branson who was momentarily distracted.

Only a handful of students, Napa Jaycees, and faculty showed up for the last day of landscaping when the very last of the sprinkler system was laid to rest.

The hard working crew was a small representation of all the students, faculty and jaycees who had worked the past year and over the summer to complete the project.

Without the many donations from various school and local clubs and organizations, and especially the tremendous help of the jaycees, Napa High would still be wallowing in the mud

and Sore Knees

Even the band and choir can be friends, especially when raising money for a common interest. Mrs. Percy King Jr. of Yountville and Principal Tom Fotinos donated their prune orchards so these two organizations could raise money for their April Tour to Oregon and Washington.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION

Distribution of food was done monthly by students of Napa, Vintage, and Justin High Schools. It originally started as a pilot program, Napa being selected by a Congressional Committee for high school students to pack and deliver food to persons unable to reach the Food Commodity Warehouse.

On the left is Terry Ow-Wing the overseer of the entire project and and Barry Rossi Who was Justin High's chairman.

This house is found on the Yountville route, it is one of the many on its route. Its occupants were appreciative of the many students who worked to get them their food.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Model United Nations is a collage of colorful costumes, flags and diplomats. Having been held March 20th thru the 23rd in which students discussed international relations, such as the Middle East Conflict, Apartheid in South Africa, Drugs, Nuclear Warfare, and Ecology. This organization has been an excellent opportunity for students to learn and practice the compromising ways of diplomats.

MARCH OF DIMES

WALK-A-THON

Traditional Indian Heritage

A mixture of the old and new symbols sprinkle the campus. The school having been rededicated on April 1st of 1973 no longer holds the titles of Napa Union High School or Napa Senior High School for they are now past history of this institution. The new buildings and the old Napa College wing presently make up Napa High School.

The proudness of the Napa Indian heritage is shown [above left] by John Bardessono doing a traditional fire dance, and by the Indian symbols which remain around campus and still represent Napa High today.

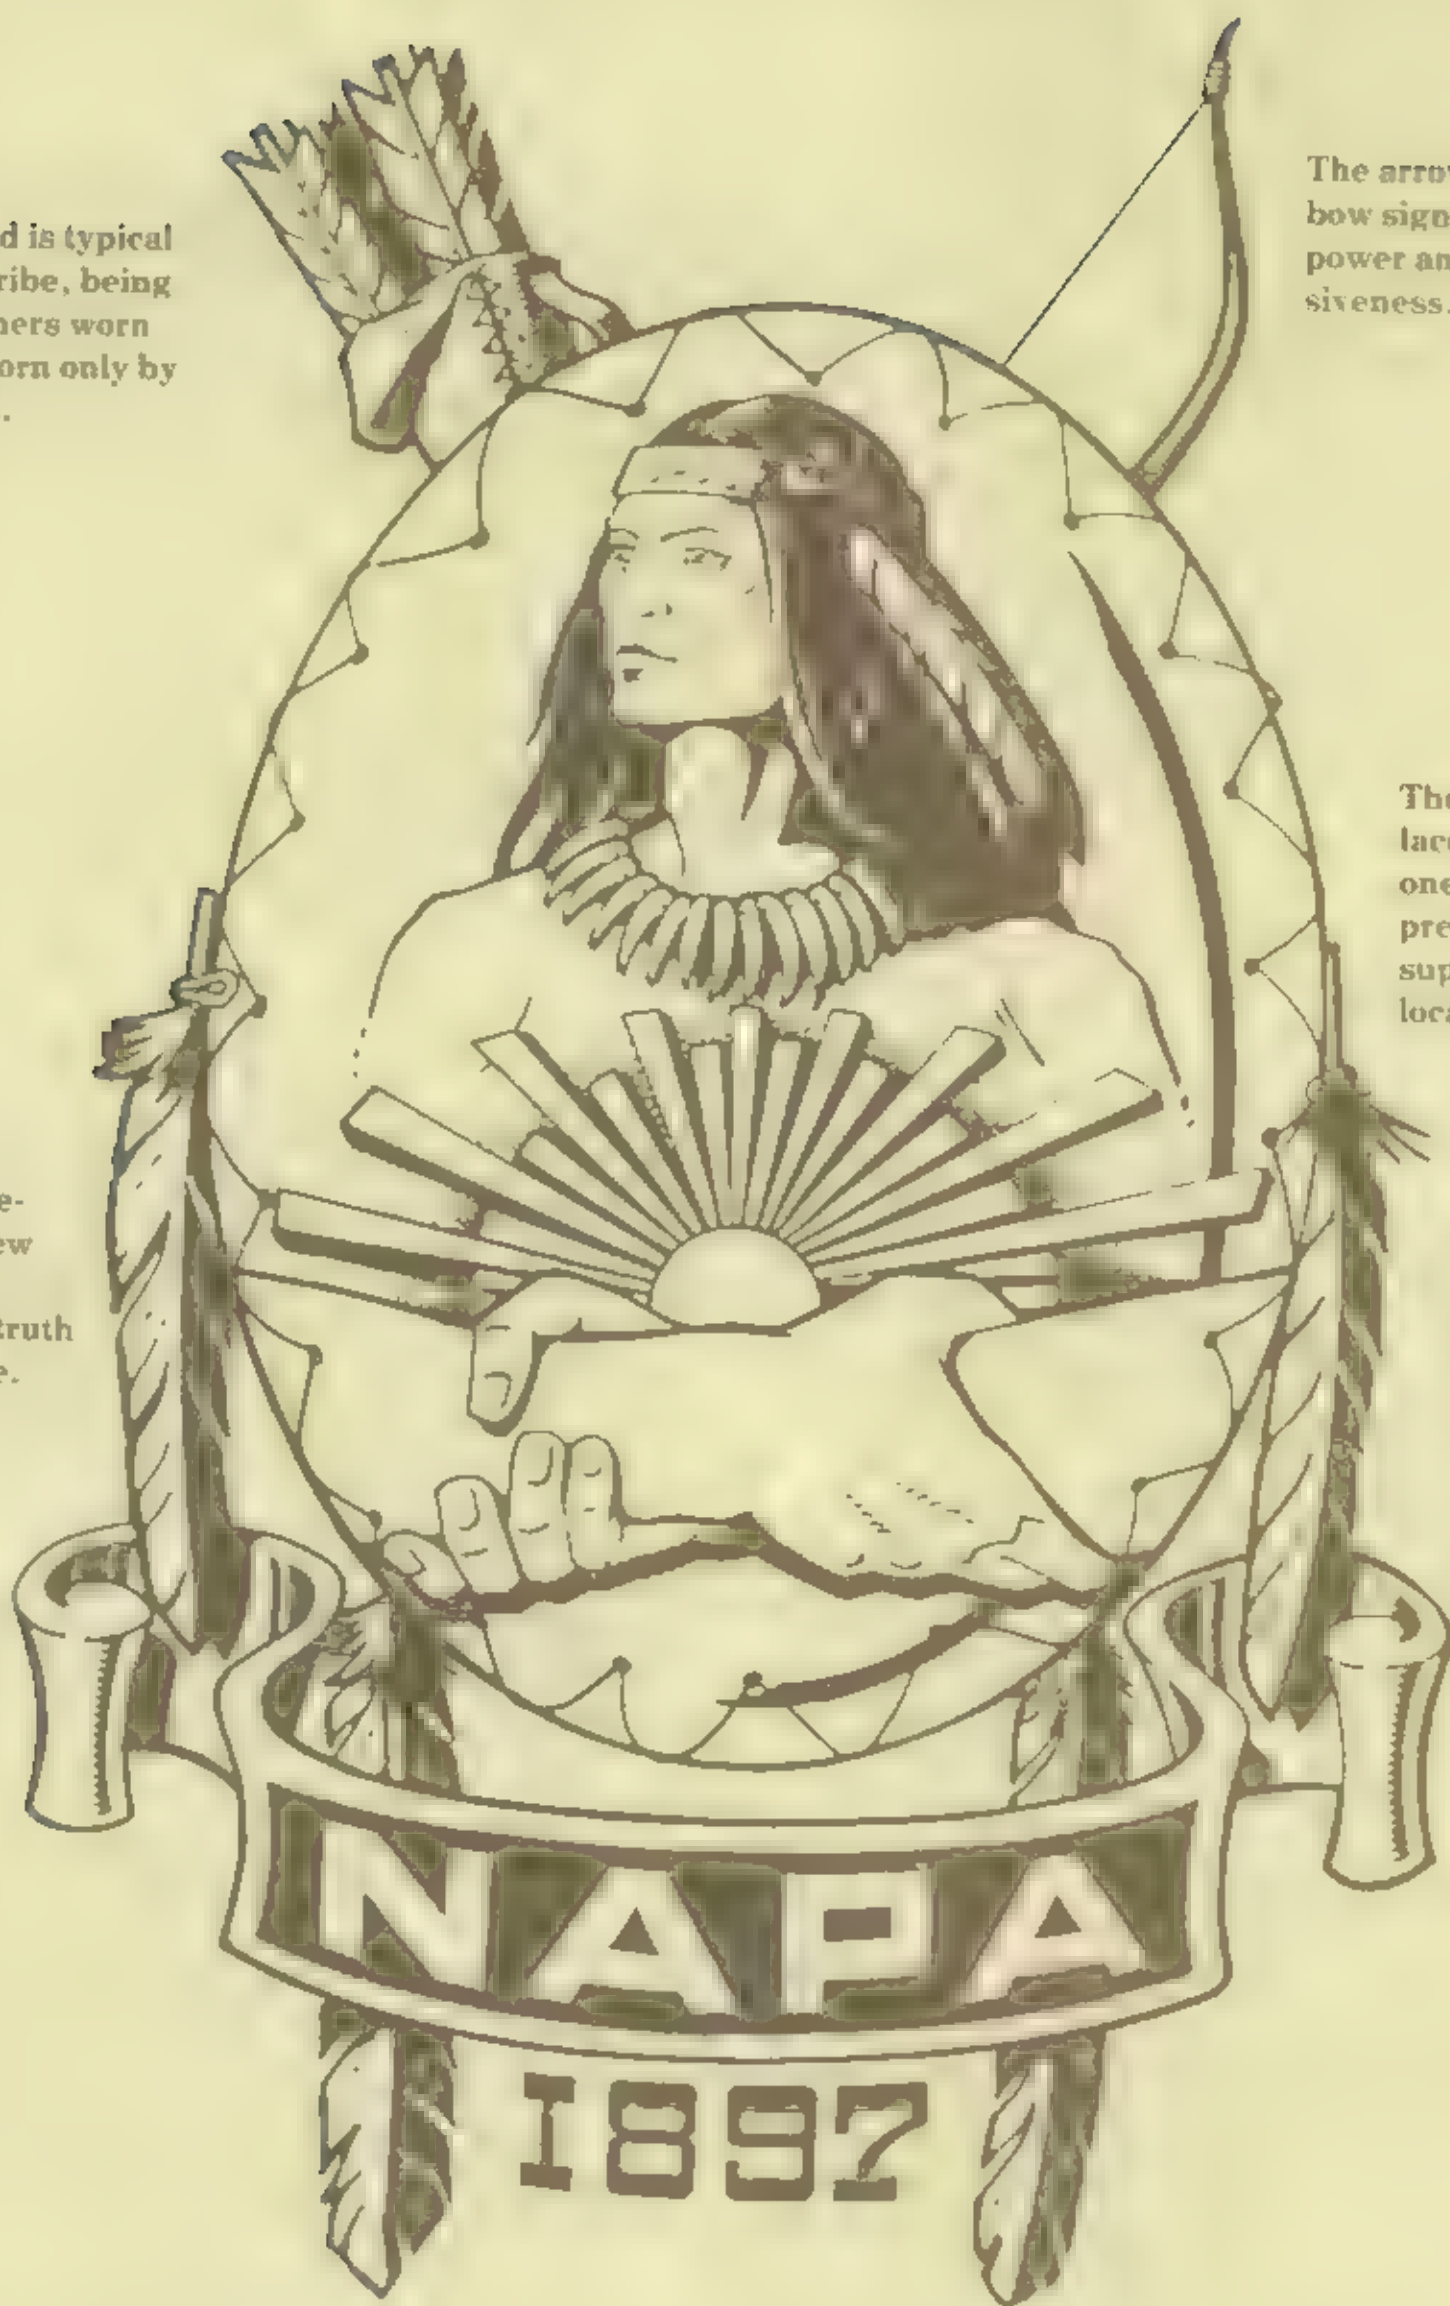

The headband is typical of the Napa tribe, being that two feathers worn down were worn only by Napa Indians.

The arrow, quiver and bow signify strength, power and aggressiveness.

The bear claw necklace — the bear at one time was the predominant meat supply of the local Indians.

The rising sun signifies the beginning of a new day. A time to seek wisdom, truth and knowledge.

A group of students met during Christmas vacation of 1972 with an artist to design the new Napa High School emblem. This Indian is the symbol that these students felt would express the proudness shown to Napa's Indian heritage. The handshake is symbolic of brotherhood and unity. The shield is to protect our ideas and concepts. In 1897, Napa High became a secondary institution of learning. Since then the school has been held in four buildings; the latest dedicated in 1972. The four feathers of the emblem express good luck, promise, and prosperity. Much time was taken to determine this emblem of Napa High School — to decide on this true emblem which represents the true Napa Indian, an Indian proud and free.

HYPEROSIS

A hypnotic reality is time. We may speculate about the end of our earthly existence, we may trust immortality in the face of incomprehensible death, yet in our efforts to foresee time we must start where we are. All we can know is that man's average ration of time is three score and ten years. What we do with our known allotment is what concerns us. Of most immediate concern is what we do with the smaller blocks of time within our grasp: the next week, the next day, the next hour, this very hour.

It has been said that life is too short to be little. Yet our greatest frustration is that so much of life is just that. Still life is what we make it, and in reality we should take care of the minutes for the hours will take care of themselves. With this in mind we will certainly live all the days of our lives.

Practicing their form is Napa's #1 band with the #1 spirit

The California Cadet Corps is a state maintained military education program. Its purpose is to develop qualities of leadership in these boys and girls participating. Military training is of secondary importance as experience has shown that it takes great time and learning to develop leaders, whereas the basic military subjects can be mastered in a few weeks of intensive training. Colonel Carl Fuller is the faculty member in charge of Napa's Cadets and has been for the past 9 years. His never-ending dedication and all-around knowledge in working with these boys and girls, who this year were allowed to enroll for the first time in the program, has made the Cadet Corps one of Napa's most beneficial organizations.

MOODS AND FEELINGS

To everything there is a season and a time for every purpose under heaven.
a time to be born, a time to die,
a time of war, a time of peace,
a time to laugh, a time to weep,
a time to gain, a time to lose,
a time to love, a time to hate,
a time of peace

I swear it's not to late taken from Ecclesiastes, adapted by Pete Seeger

There seems to be an overpopulation problem in drivers education

Heavy but smooth moving traffic between classes

THE BUCK

In 1968 a school bond election was passed giving in part money to the Education Center, as well as for the construction of Napa, and Vintage High Schools. The school board was responsible for selling a great number of bonds, as was the state. Eighteen months later the state finally sold their bonds. In the meantime inflation had eaten $50,000 of the original allotted fund. The old Napa High School buildings renovation has been done with an enormous amount of volunteer work by the the Administrators. Large amounts of recycling have kept kept costs down to minimum, with wood paneling having been brought down from the former Yountville office as well as old bookcases, and shelving.

The corridors will soon be finished, the paint on the walls, the carpet and paneling in place. Still the memories and echos of the students who have passed will forever remain.

This monster on the right is the Centrix machine which among other things enables a person to dial four numbers and reach any school in the district.

REALLY STOPS HERE

Dr. J. Win Payne

The School Board's highly dedicated leaders fulfill traditional goals and formulate new ones to meet the demands of today. Below the board listens to discussions on the energy crisis in the first-ever meeting in the newly remodeled old south campus building now known as the Education Center. This year's members were: D. Barboza, T. Dewinter, P. Green, B. Grundland, D. Heme, K. Kenchelian, C. Sims, J. Mikolajcik.

NAPA HIGH'S CAREER CENTER

A BIG SUCCESS

The Napa High School Career Center, funded through the county Superintendent of Schools, proved to be popular among the students this year.

The Center offered information on all entry-level careers from one and two-year technical and vocational to four-year programs.

Also, there were a variety of tests for types of careers best-suited to the student. These tests included the Kuder, S.A.A.S. and the J.O.B.-O. tests. Results of the tests were kept on file for students to come in and do research on the jobs they were suited to.

Andrea Eppinger, head of the Career Center, also arranged for speakers on campus in specific careers and various field trips during the past year. The Center was also responsible for such activities as Art Week, Law Week, and the popular Career Day.

MS. ANDREA EPPINGER

New to the center were the audio-visual materials offered, which included tape recorders, headphones, and record players.

Ms. Eppinger attributed the success of the Career Center to the fact that students can research careers on an independent basis, and on their own time.

Napa High's Career Center will almost definitely be a major asset in future years for the development of career goals for students.

Career and College FAIR

The American Association of University Women sponsored this fair in the National Guard Armory for Napa High students. The students attended during their physical education classes and were invited to return after school. More than a hundred colleges sent both official representatives and brochures, and catalogs to help answer such questions as courses available, housing, costs, etc. Many representatives were A.A.U.W. members who are alumni of schools they represented, and the event was a great opportunity for students who were college bound.

GIRLS STATE

Junior Patty Sward and her alternate Wendy Randal were chosen to attend the 31st annual Girls State Program held at the Olympic Village June 26-July 3. This honor makes her eligible for national honors, and she will also receive a specially designed award from General Mills for her participation in the program. The purpose of Girls State is to educate youth in the responsibilities of citizenship.

NAPA
RULES

This crowd scene at the Homecoming Game typified the enthusiasm and spirit generated by the Napa student body throughout the football season. Although Napa lost the game, participation on the part of the audience was outstanding. Napa, however, put it all together in the annual crosstown competition against Vintage High with both the J V and Varsity teams coming out on top in the traditional manner.

NAPA

Students walk through the B-wing between classes during the last day of school in 1973. This was the first year decorations were put up in the new buildings. Sophomores and Juniors shared the B-wing, while the Seniors decorated the A-wing. The Juniors' "Christmas With a Melody" theme won this year's class competition.

Expressions are far more common than people yet just as unique, each and every expression is a part of our life. Expressions will be forgotten however as will our existence at Napa High, for the expressions shall become dim reflections in our minds.

Merry
Christmas

Thank You!

A black and white photograph of a street scene. In the foreground, a large, dark, rectangular object, possibly a trash can or a utility box, is partially visible. Behind it, a large, leafy tree stands in the middle of the street. To the left, a street lamp is visible. In the background, a building with a cross on its facade is partially obscured by the tree. The overall scene is somewhat blurry and has a vintage feel.

FAREWELL TO NAPA HIGH SCHOOL

Napa High has given us memories we shall always cherish, and we hope you will cherish the 1974 NAPANEE as well

To the Class of 1974 I wish the most SPECIAL KIND of LUCK. The task of expressing my gratitude to all who have helped with the production of the 74 NAPANEE is somewhat difficult for the list is endless. However, endless as the list may be I would especially like to acknowledge

THE STAFF for their tolerance and patience when the pressure of a deadline was put upon them. Special thanks goes to Steve Brumbaugh for his last minute photo production work, and to Diane DeLong for the never ending effort she put forth. All in all a group I will always remember and certainly never forget.

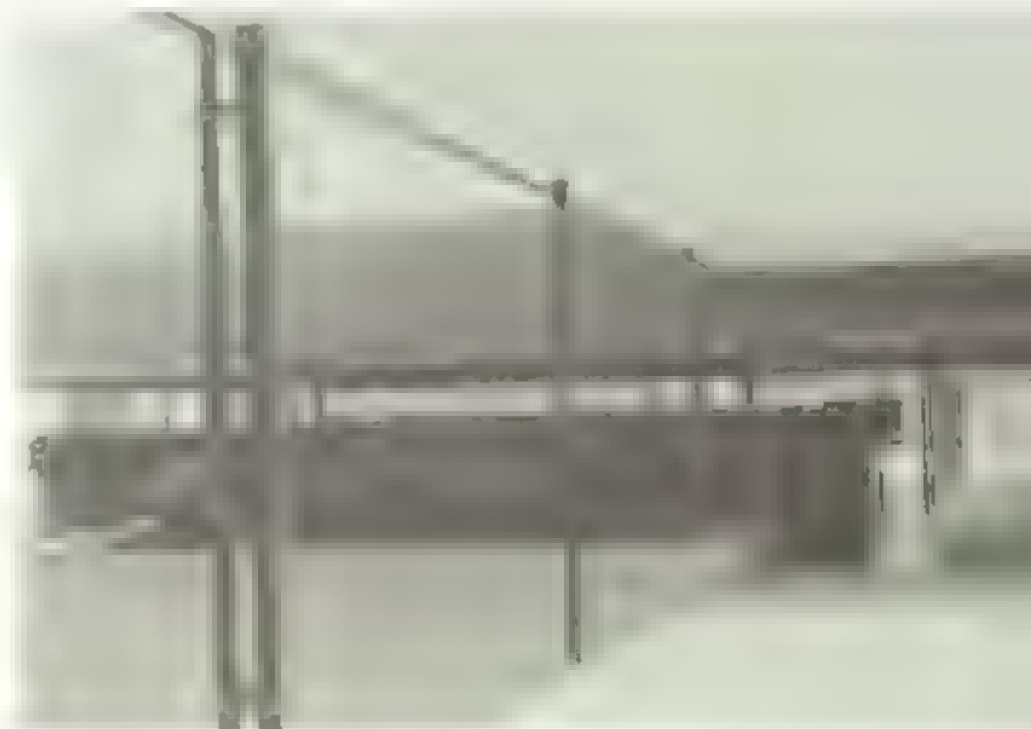

THE ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY for their cooperation and understanding when it came to interrupting class routine and releasing students

THE STUDENT BODY for their support of the 1974 NAPANEE in sales and enthusiasm. And whose purpose this book serves.

TO YEARBOOK HOUSE for the efficiency they demonstrated when we could not. A special thanks to Mr. Bernard Minkin for all the personal attention and consideration shown us

TO MR. RON FEIST who always took time to help, and be concerned even when the time wasn't available to him.

The 1973—74 school year has ended. For the Seniors it ends a way of life and begins to open vast new horizons. For the Seniors it also comes time to say goodbye to the Monday morning blues and the Friday night football games. It comes time to Leave the Old and Make way for the New.

TO MR. RUSCH whom without this book would not exist. Your encouragement and organization was what kept us going. I hope you will stay as yearbook advisor for a long time for you are this book's success.

To my LOVE Napa High School for existing.

Bert, you're one of my super great guys friends. I really like you an awful lot and always have. You're really sweet and you're very great looking and a great personality. Stay that way.

Love + friends always,
